DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 3-4 and 9-10 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on December 17, 2007

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-2, 5-8 and 11-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fortier (US 5,088,119). Fortier discloses a conventional necktie (100) defined by a first section (102), second knot neck section (106) forming an extension and a third section (104) that are joined together as shown in figure 9. Further, the length of the second knot neck section is smaller than the first and third section as also shown in figure 9. However, Fortier does not show the knot having at least two different portions of fabrics.

Col. 4, lines 14-22 states that the necktie can have different knot portions with different colors of patterns with the same basic display sections/portions (102,104).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to recognize that the knot of Fortier can include two different fabric portions (102,104) as discloses therein so that the necktie can match the desired pattern on clothes or depending on the end use thereof.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure.
